

Settlers Creek appreciates the opportunity to propose a very unique day and evening for your group. As you know, we specialize in exclusive and highly customized corporate events and take pride in our ability to host those unique events, creating an interactive experience within a private, yet expansive, natural setting.

We are passionate about designing and hosting remarkable one of kind events which will resonate with your organization. The Settlers Creek property delivers the setting, size, and diversity of spaces that allow your guests a chance to create their own experience yet provide unity within the framework of the overall event. Our historical property, unlike many others, is specifically designed for larger groups; in contrast to many venues which must create a somewhat generic or less than intuitive arrangement in order to “fit” the group. Settlers Creek has the ability to create a focused and contiguous setting for a common entertainment experience when needed.

In contrast to a traditional hotel, convention room or major resort property experience, Settlers Creek uniquely provides a truly genuine view of the Inland Northwest region. Our historic farm backdrop provides unrivaled access to a spacious yet beautiful outdoor setting for a fall evening filled with great food, activities and entertainment.

We have been entrusted with planning and hosting a wide variety of large national and international corporate guests such as State Farm, DIY Network, Land Rover, AIG, State Auto, Amica, Old American Insurance, Cargill, Pacific Coast Society for Prosthodontics and Thrivent Financial and political/governmental events such as Idaho Governor’s Cup, various Idaho State agency special events, USDA’s Tri-National Accord (USA, Canada & Mexico’s Federal heads of Agriculture) and countless national associations.

As you will experience firsthand, our reputation for amazing events is due in part to our genuine passion for food and service. Our menu is truly made from scratch and prepared on premise using local and regional ingredients; even our spices are purchased whole, ground and blended just prior to your event. We, as owners, and our chefs are true “foodies” whose passion comes through very clearly.

The most important priority to Settlers Creek is that we place authenticity and quality before anything else. Similarly, our venue was created from an authentic turn-of-the-century farm and we have ensured that it remains true to what it is and its history, avoiding false enhancements to the architecture or experience.

In short, in the same way we do not create the image or cliché’ of an old farm, we also don’t make food that only sounds or looks good. We strongly believe food should be a reflection of our passion, not just another service element. So, the challenge that we meet from a culinary and host prospective is to create genuine from scratch ‘slow-foods,’ while providing the perfect contrast of elegance with the historic farm architecture and its natural setting.

We look forward to learning more about your upcoming special event and the opportunity to create a comprehensive full-service dinner and entertainment evening proposal for you.

Thank you again for your interest in Settlers Creek!
