

Rose & Veil

Shared Wedding Events

You and a few guests have a well-appointed private wedding ceremony at an upscale venue with a licensed officiant. Then, you walk into a reception in progress where other couples that were married earlier are enjoying cake and bubbly, dancing with friends and taking lots of photographs. You did not get to pick your colors, but you saved $5K.

Think about a lovely Saturday afternoon wedding event for one lucky bride. What does the venue do with the tables and chairs and decor and flowers? What if two couples enjoyed that set up a little later in the day? Why not five or ten couples with an all-day party for the reception - heck yeah!

Now you're getting the idea.

We don't serve alcohol or a meal, but we have beverage choices and fabulous wedding cake slices (and a big faux wedding cake for photos) and tons more included. See website for details
