FAQ

The venue has three main event spaces, the main hall, stage, and gallery. The max guest count is 100 for gallery or stage and 200 for main hall cocktail style, or up to 160 seated meal, or 200 theater style seating. Furniture choices and layouts can bring that count down.

The rental is for the blank space, including the cleaning fee, with no additional service charges or outside vendor fees. I have a great list of preferred vendors, but you are welcome to bring in your own selections with approval.

The gallery tables are fixed (and the split level is the bar) and there is always artwork on the walls, which is changed out with a local artist every 3 months. Artwork would never be offensive or controversial but cannot be removed or replaced.

The restrooms are all on one side of the venue with 6 stalls in the women's and 4 in the men's. There are two catering prep rooms (no cooking appliances onsite) where the caterers bring their prepared food and serve from. If alcohol is to be served, it must be through a licensed and insured bar vendor or caterer. It may not be self-serve or served with just a hired bartender.

For full venue events, you are required to hire a coordinator to manage your day, but they should also create your floor plan, timeline and final list of vendors. These items are due 30 days in advance for approval, which will assist with setup, breakdown, and putting out any day-of fires. You can book these services through the Rialto for an additional fee.

There are 3 lots with paid parking through a phone app and free street parking. There are also City of Tampa lots within two blocks of the theater with spaces to rent by contacting them through the parking webpage, as well as a new parking garage at the corner of Tampa and Palm for as little as $5 per car. If you reserve a block of hotel rooms either Downtown or Ybor, ask about the hotel's available shuttles.
