About The Century

built 1923

Nestled in the heart of Merion Village, this historic building, originally constructed in 1923, has seen nearly a century of transformation. Its walls have echoed the bustling sounds of Blue Bird Bakery, where the scent of freshly baked bread once filled the air. Later, it became a Buick Dealership, where vehicles were driven directly into the building off of Moler Street. In more recent years, it housed a custom furniture maker, TY Furniture who meticulously restored the southern windows and Bake Me Happy, a local gluten-free bakery. Each era has left its mark on the structure, layering its history with stories of craftsmanship and creativity.

Today, this storied building has been thoughtfully restored and repurposed as a stunning historic wedding and event space, aptly named "The Century" in honor of its 100-year legacy. Located in the vibrant core of Merion Village, The Century preserves the original brickwork and exposed beams, paying homage to its past, while sleek, modern touches create a clean, sophisticated ambiance. The blend of historic charm and contemporary design makes it a unique venue, perfect for those looking to celebrate special moments in a setting that seamlessly marries the old with the new. The building stands as a testament to resilience and reinvention, ready to host the next generation of memories.
